LEARN MORE ABOUT TREATING THE LACK OF BOWEL CONTROL

John Winston, MD

Please join board-certified colorectal surgeon, John Winston, MD, for a free dinner and informative talk about the loss of bowel control. Losing the voluntary control of the bowel can greatly interfere with daily life, and more important, it can be an indirect symptom of other conditions. Learn more about the causes and available treatments, including more-convenient procedures that can be done in the physician's office.
